600 STUDENTS IN SCHOOL MUSIC FESTIVAL TONIGHT

More than 600 students of the nine elementary schools of Washington Township will take part in the Washington Township Elementary School Music Festival to be held in the gymnasium of the high school at 8 p.m. tonight, Friday.

The program will be opened with a march by the combined orchestras of the schools.

The Irvington school chorus will sing three selections, "This is My Country," "June is Busting Out All Over" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The Decoto Drum and Bugle Corps will march and play, as the third presentation on the program.

The combined school chorus will render the immortal "Battle Hymn of the Republic," followed by numbers by the Alvarado primary rhythm band and dancers.

The Centerville Clodhoppers, dancers from the seventh and eighth grades, will do a dance routine followed by selections by the Centerville fifth grade Tonette Band.

The combined orchestra and chorus will each present two selections and will join in presenting "America the Beautiful" as the closing selection.

Lee Lykins, supervisor of music for the Alameda County School Department, will serve as master of ceremonies, aided by Bernard Callery, instrumental music teacher in six of the elementary schools.

The program is open to the public with no admission charged.

REGISTER'S $1,000 CONTEST CLOSES FRIDAY, JUNE 2

Just one week from today (Friday) the Township Register's Circulation Contest will close and five of the local contestants will share in the $1,000 cash awards. The contest will officially close at 8:00 p.m. on Friday, June 2.

Miss Oma Perry, contest manager, has announced that the returns of the candidates for the last three days of the contest will be placed in a locked ballot box in The Register office and all subscriptions received by club members during those days will be placed in the box by the individual workers. "This is done so that no one may know how much any candidate turns in during the closing days," Miss Perry said.

BONUS OFFER REPEATED

The ballot box will be opened by a panel of judges and the ballots will be counted and added to the points already obtained by each candidate. The winners will then be announced.

Vernon Ellsworth, Niles realtor; Carl Christensen, manager of the Central Bank of Irvington, and Jack Parry, assistant manager of the Central Bank at Niles have been selected to act as judges of the Circulation Club.

Miss Perry said this week that last week's bonus offer for candidates will be repeated again this week, until Tuesday, May 30, at 5:30 p.m.

The last three days of the campaign, the only Bonus Ballots to

400 FARM LABORERS FIND WORK HERE

More than 400 farm workers have been sent to jobs in Alameda and Santa Clara Counties in the slightly more than two weeks of operation of the Centerville farm labor office of the California Department of Employment, it was revealed this week.

Most of the workers have gone to work in the local strawberry harvest, now at its peak; however some have gone to the vegetable crop, general farm jobs and the early cherry harvest in Santa Clara county.

The next major seasonal harvest will start next week with the picking of cherries. Picking has already started locally but it is on a small scale.

The office is located at 145 North Main Street, Centerville, on Highway 17. Growers needing workers are urged to phone Centerville 8-8939.

FESTIVAL TO HOLY GHOST SUNDAY AT MISSION SAN JOSE

The Holy Ghost Festival, sponsored by the I.D.E.S. No. 1 of Mission San Jose, will be held at Mission on Saturday and Sunday, May 27 and 28.

Miss Elaine Perry has been named to reign over the festivities as queen. Her attendants will be Jackie Rose and Shirley Amaral, and the bargirls will be Nadine Millard, Marlene Dutra, Joanne Castro and Barbara Castro.

The festivities will get underway at 7:30 p.m. Saturday with the parade of the queen and her attendants from the I.D.E.S. Hall to St. Joseph's Church for the rosary service.

A dance will follow at the hall with the Gardetto Brothers orchestra furnishing the music for the American dances and Margaret's Melody Makers playing for the chamaritas. A carnival with various types of booths will provide additional entertainment.

The parade Sunday will form at 9 a.m. and will include the Centerville band, drum and bugle corps and drill units from neighboring cities, delegates from other councils and the queen and her attendants.

The group will march to the church for a high mass to be sung at 10 a.m. by the Rev. J. A. Leal.

A barbecue dinner will be served from 12 noon until 2 p.m., followed by the traditional auctions and carnival.

In charge of the two-day celebration are Theodore J. Garcia, chairman; Joseph Azevedo, vice-chairman; Ralph Souza, secretary-treasurer; Walter Connolly, publicity, and the directors of the I.D.E.S., Joseph Pereira, Joseph P. Garcia and J. V. Perry.

CHAMBER REQUESTS TRAFFIC SLOWDOWN

The Irvington Chamber of Commerce on Tuesday became the second local Chamber to take action requesting closer control of traffic on Highway 17.

This busy highway, which carries the bulk of the San Jose-Oakland traffic, intersects both Centerville and Irvington, and the Chambers of Commerce of both communities have ordered letters sent to the State Highway Patrol requesting that traffic, particularly large trucks, be slowed down when passing through the communities.

Gravest concern to the members was the speeding of trucks around the monument at the corner of Mission and Broadway, which has become known as "Crash Corner" as the result of the number of trucks which have overturned there, spilling their cargo at the entrance to the Central Bank.

NEW STUDENT PASTOR AT IRVINGTON CHURCH

Cecil Rhodes, student at the San Francisco Theological Seminary at San Anselmo, has been appointed student pastor of the Irvington Community Presbyterian Church.

He succeeds Asa Collins, who has graduated from the college and accepted a permanent position at a San Francisco church.

HIGH SCHOOL SPORTSMAN WINS SCHOLARSHIP POST

Ralph Juhl, outstanding baseball player at Washington High, has proved that it isn't only in sports that he shines. For this week he was elected president of the C.S.F., an honorary scholastic society at the high school.

Other new officers are as follows: vice-president, Dick Lane; secretary, Audrey Turnbow, treasurer, Edna May Cross.

ORSETTI ELECTED SCHOOL TRUSTEE IN RECORD VOTE

Joseph V. Orsetti was elected trustee of Alviso Elementary School District last Friday in what is believed to be the heaviest vote ever recorded there in a school election.

Alviso was the only school district in the township in which there was a contest for the vacancy on the school board, and 192 of the slightly more than 200 registered voters, appeared at the polls to cast their ballots.

Orsetti, a write-in candidate, defeated Joseph S. Dias 148 to 41 for the position.

Both men sought election to the vacancy on the board created by the resignation of Mrs. Mayme Roderick, who gave up her position after serving on the board for 24 years.

Candidates in the other districts, who were re-elected without opposition, were: Dr. E. M. Grimmer, Irvington; Michael Overacker, Mission San Jose; Fred Melhase, Newark; Ernest Sabina, Centerville; H. A. Searles, Decoto; George Burr, Niles; M. P. Goularte, Alvarado, and Melvin C. Leal, Warm Springs.

The two Washington Union High School trustees re-elected are M. J. Bernardo of Centerville and S. G. Scott of Newark.

CHAMBER OPPOSES SOCIALIZED PLAN

Opposition to socialized medicine was voted by the Niles Chamber of Commerce at its regular weekly meeting at the International Kitchen on Tuesday.

The resolution adopted opposing socialized medicine stated that it has caused a decline in public health in countries where it has been practiced, that it weakens the doctor-family relationship, that it places an additional tax on the working man, and that it undermines free enterprise.

Louis Hunt, owner of the Cathay Inn in Niles, invited members of the Chamber to be his guests at a luncheon tomorrow when the restaurant, which has been closed temporarily, will reopen.

15 NEW HOMES NEAR IRVINGTON

Construction will begin soon on 15 new homes at Olive Avenue and Mission Road near Irvington, it was announced this week by Frank Crossman, local contractor.

The homes will be of two and three bedrooms, on lots 60 feet wide by 140 feet deep. They will be of the ranchhouse style.

The development is on property owned by W. E. Bailey and Jack Prouty, and marks the beginning of a subdivision that may extend over 150 acres.

LINDSAY COMPANY REORGANIZES PLANT

The Claude T. Lindsay Company of Decoto is presently undergoing a plant reorganization that will result in doubling present employment by next year, according to B. J. Tanklage, who manages the factory. There are now 80 employees.

The company no longer makes pre-fabricated homes but manufactures cabinets, window frames and complete door units. Other products will be added, according to Tanklage.

In addition to the mill, the company operates a wholesale lumber business, which sells only to contractors and lumber yards.

SCHUCKL STARTS CHERRY CANNING

The Schuckl cannery in Niles began processing cherries Tuesday, according to Sherman Leonard, chief chemist, who has charge of the local plant.

The fruit is being shipped in from the Stockton area and consists of Bings, Royal Annes and Black Republicans.

The regular monthly meeting of the Township Chamber of Commerce will be held Wednesday in the Irvington fire station.

CENTERVILLE MAN KILLED; 3 INJURED IN HIGHWAY CRASH

A head-on crash on Highway 17, midway between Centerville and Irvington about 7:30 p.m. Monday, brought death to one man and critical injuries to three other persons.

Killed in the accident was Eustaquio Obedoza, 48, a Centerville ranch worker. The injured are Felix O. Peralta, 37, of Newark, who was riding with Obedoza; Anthony Giacobbe, 30, 1455 46th Avenue, Oakland, and his wife, Lena, 30.

Witnesses reported that one of the drivers apparently lost control of his machine as the two cars approached each other on the two-lane highway.

The injured persons were taken to Fairmont Hospital in the Dallas Paul ambulance from Centerville and later were transferred to Highland Hospital in Oakland. Obedoza's body was taken to the Oakland office of the county coroner.

LOCAL MAN FACES FRAUD CHARGE

A Newark man, Rudolph M. Basurto, 562 Spruce Street, was among six Alameda County workers charged this week with violations of the State Unemployment Act.

The complaints, charging the men with "chiseling" unemployment benefits while they were employed were issued by Deputy District Attorney Richard Lynch.

Basurto is charged with collecting $65 in unemployment benefits while he was employed and thus ineligible. The complaint was signed by a representative from the office of Patrick J. Cronin, supervising special investigator for the California Department of Employment.

IRVINGTON CHURCH BUILDING APPROVED

Construction of a new recreation hall for the Irvington Community Presbyterian Church is scheduled to get underway within the next few weeks.

Church trustees and heads of the various church organizations met Tuesday evening for a report on their recent fund-raising campaign and to hear the bid of the contractor, R. A. Griffin.

It was revealed that the original estimated cost of the building had been reached by the funds on hand, the funds collected in the campaign and the pledges promised. However, it was determined that the cost of the building exceeded by approximately $1,000 the amount originally estimated.

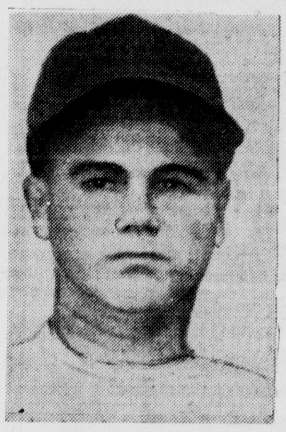
The new building will house a social hall, kitchen, pastor's study and toilets. It will be erected at the rear of the church building.

VERNON MACHADO NAMED ON COUNTY ALL-STAR TEAM

For the second consecutive year a member of the Washington Union High School championship baseball team has been named to the Alameda County All-Star team.

The local lad receiving the vote of the coaches of the county for the All-Star team this year is Vernon Machado, 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Machado of Alvarado and a member of the senior class at Washington High.

Machado will fill the shortstop position on the All-Star team on June 3 when that club meets the



VERNON MACHADO

Oakland Catholic All-Stars in the annual Post-Enquirer Legion game at Oaks Ball Park.

Last year Gene Bramwell of Mission San Jose, star Huskie pitcher, was named to the All-County team.

During his last four years at Washington, Machado has run up an enviable record. He has been on the starting line-up of the varsity all four years. His first three years he played shortstop, but was shifted to the second base slot this season by Coach Irving Hird.

His fielding has been practically flawless during his four years of competition and his batting has been far above average. In his freshman year he hit around the .400 mark and in his sophomore year hit an even .500. A batting slump during his junior year cut him down to .240 but he regained his stride this season to collect 24 hits for 67 times at bat, an average of .326.

At the conclusion of his sophomore year Machado was named on the North-South All-Star squad and played in that spectacular game in San Jose.

GOVERNOR WARREN TO SPEAK IN NILES, CENTERVILLE TODAY

Governor Earl Warren will visit Washington Township today (Friday) on his state-wide campaign tour for re-election and will deliver brief addresses at Niles and Centerville.

The governor is scheduled to speak at the flag pole in Niles at 8:45 a.m. and in front of the post office in Centerville at 9:10 a.m. He will be introduced in both towns by Judge Allen G. Norris of Centerville.

He has announced that his address here will cover three topics most vital to the township: Labor, agriculture and schools, based on "action—not promises."

Long-time residents of the township pointed out this week that they believe today's visit will mark the first time that a governor has ever visited Centerville or Niles.

Warren is the second candidate for governor to visit the township during the current campaign. James Roosevelt spoke at Niles and Centerville last month. Welburn Mayock, the third candidate, has not yet visited this area.

E. Dixon Bristow, principal of the Niles Elementary School, announced yesterday that the students of the sixth, seventh and eighth grades will be excused from their first period classes for an opportunity to see the governor.

STOVE EXPLOSION BURNS PICNICKERS

Four members of a Palo Alto Negro family were seriously burned near Mission San Jose Sunday afternoon when their camping stove exploded and showered them with burning gasoline.

The injured were Miss Bernice Jones, 22, and her two-year-old son, Lester, 260 Page Mill Road; Mattie Watts, 30, 191 Sheridan Street, and Flossie Thompson, 416 Fullerton Street.

Mrs. Watts and Mrs. Thompson were attempting to light the gasoline stove at a roadside picnic grounds when it exploded, setting fire to their clothing and spewing burning gas on Mrs. Jones, who was standing nearby holding her baby. Mrs. Watts and Mrs. Thompson both received third degree burns.

Will Watts, husband of Mrs. Watts, escaped injury. He loaded the injured persons into his car and started for help, but stopped at the Highway Juction near Warm Springs and telephoned for aid when his car became overheated.

The victims were all rushed to Fairmont Hospital in the Dallas Paul ambulance from Centerville.

TOWNSHIP FREE OF DISEASE THIS WEEK

Despite a sizeable number of cases of chickenpox and mumps in adjoining areas, Washington Township was virtually free of disease this week, according to the report of Dr. James C. Malcolm, health officer.

Dr. Malcolm, in his weekly summarization of the health of the rural section of the county, revealed that no new cases were reported here in the week ending May 20.

NILES MAN REFUSES TO BE COOPERATIVE IN AGE-OLD SPANISH PRISONER RACKET

* * * * * * * * *

The " Spanish Prisoner" racket is one of the oldest rackets known to police—not so old, however, but what it is still being used.

For example, a man in Niles (who prefers to remain unidentified) was staked out by some unknown person in Mexico to be a victim of this racket. The man in Niles was too smart to fall for the scheme though, and has turned the following letter, which he received this week, over to the post office department.

Dear Sir:

A person who knows you and who has spoken very highly about you, has made me trust you a very delicate matter of which depends the entire future of my dear daughter, as well as my very existence.

I am in prison, sentenced for bankruptcy, and I wish to know if you are willing to help me to save the sum of $449,000 U. S. currency (FOUR HUNDRED FORTY NINE THOUSAND DOLLARS) which I have in bank bills hidden in a secret compartment of a trunk that is now deposited in a customhouse in the United States.

As soon as I send you undeniable evidence, it is necessary that you come here and pay the expenses incurred in connection with my process, so the embargo on my suitcases can be lifted, one of which suitcases contains a baggage check that was given to me at the time of checking my trunk for North America and which trunk contains the sum above said. To compensate you for all your troubles, I will give you the THIRD PART OF SAID SUM.

Due to serious reasons which you will know later, please reply via air mail. I beg you to treat this matter with the utmost reserve and discretion. Fearing that the letter might have gone astray and not reach your hands, I will not sign my name until I hear from you, and then I will entrust you with all my secret. For the time being I am only signing "M."

Due to the fact that I am in charge of the prison school, I can write you like this and entirely at liberty.

I can not receive your reply directly in this prison, so in case you accept my proposition, please airmail your letter to a person of my entire trust who will get it to me.

MILLIONS TO WEAR POPPIES TOMORROW

Millions of Americans will wear bright red poppies tomorrow, May 29, to honor the memory of America's dead in the two world wars. Women of the American Legion Auxiliary will be on the streets here early in the morning with baskets of the memorial flowers to pin on the coats of passers-by. They expect practically everyone in the township to be wearing a poppy before nightfall.

More than 35 million crepe paper poppies have been made for the Auxiliary by disabled veterans for this year's observance of Poppy Day, according to Mrs. Lillie Robinson, Auxiliary poppy chairman, who is directing the observance here. Approximately 150,000 women and girls, all serving as unpaid volunteers, will distribute the flowers throughout the country. Contributions to American Legion and Auxiliary rehabilitation and child welfare funds, given in exchange for the poppies, will reach a total of $3,500,000, it is estimated.

Employment for thousands of disabled veterans confined to hospitals or unable to do other work has been provided by the Auxiliary's poppy-making program. The work has given these men the encouraging experience of earning money again and has filled empty hospital days with interesting, beneficial activity.

Poppies to be distributed here have been made at Livermore Veterans Hospital where patients have worked in their beds and in the occupational therapy shop. The flowers are lifelike replicas of the European wild poppy which Col. John McCrae, Canadian medical officer, made into a war memorial flower of the English-speaking world with his poem which begins: "In Flanders fields the poppies blow Between the crosses, row on row."

"Here tomorrow," said Mrs. Robinson, "we hope to see the poppies blooming over every remembering heart."

W.U.H.S. CLASSES ELECT OFFICERS

Classes of Washington Union High School elected officers during the past week, selecting students who will serve during the 1950-51 school term.

The junior class has selected Vincent Wallace to serve as president during their senior year. Other officers named were: Willie Funk, vice-president; Alice Tacang, treasurer; Mary Jewel Lopez, yell leader, and Shirley Neighbors, student body representative.

Tony Nieves won the presidency of the class which will become sophomores next year. On his staff are: Janet Robertson, vice-president; Marlene Roche, secretary; Jean Furtado, treasurer; Antoine Rigmaiden, and Fred Viscarra, student body representative.

Next year's junior class named Vernon Perry as its president-elect, with the following staff of officers: Glouthaian Neeley, vice-president; Loretta Facey, secretary; Patricia Santos, treasurer; Beverly Venturi, yell leader, and George Pagan, student body representative.

VALEDICTORIANS NAMED

Parks, Florence Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Don Morgan and Mr. and Mrs. J. Morgan. Mrs. Mara served strawberry shortcake, a salad, crackers and coffee.

SURPRISE!

This is a little thing that happened in my barber shop a few days ago. There was sent to me as a sample a new shaving cream which is used on the dry face and then washed off, and then you have your face wet. While I was busy this evening, a customer of mine wanted to try this new cream, so he applies it to his face and lets it get good and dry and then washes it off and, with a very surprised look stared into the mirror and started to holler that he still had his beard on, thinking all the time that the new cream was actually shaving him!

MOVE TO OREGON

Bert Reed and family, who formerly operated a lunch room at the Decoto Hotel, across from the cannery, have moved to Oregon. The lunch room is now closed. It will be missed by the men and women of the cannery who used to run across the street at recess time for lunches. Bert had been here in business for about six years.

PROUD PARENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Garcia of Ashland are the proud parents of a baby boy which was born last week. Manuel Garcia is a former Decoto man who lived with his parents on Eleventh Street until his marriage.

VACATIONING

Joe Lewis, the butcher boy at Olson's Store, is on vacation for a week. He plans to take it easy around the ranch, and help to get things lined up to harvest his cherry crop.

FOGGY SUNDAY

Last Sunday, being a beautiful and warm day here, three local boys, Jacob Navarro, Jerry Brown and Tony Garcia, drove up to Santa Cruz where they say the weather was foggy and cold, but they had a pretty good time anyway on the rides and other games. They were a little disappointed on not seeing many bathing girls on account of the cold weather. I guess we in Washington Township should be thankful for our good weather here.

LOTS OF FUN

The Decoto P.T.A. had its annual dinner at Lou's Village in San Jose last Saturday night, with 35 P.T.A. members, their husbands and guests present. A very enjoyable time was had by all. The reports that I received were that the food was grand and that the midnight floor show was really good. On the way back home most of the party stopped at the Junction Inn near Warm Springs, which is now under the management of Manuel Vargas and his son, Vernon, both formerly of Decoto. We wish Manuel and Vernon lots of good luck in their new business.

KELLY MAKES GOOD

The reports coming in here from Texas on Leonard Kelly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kelly of Decoto, are very good and it looks like the hard hitting, glue fingered third baseman is playing great ball for the Robstown Rebels Club of Robstown, Texas, a Rio Grande Valley League team. He has been hitting way above the .300 mark and looks like he will climb to a higher league in the near future. Kelly formerly played both hard ball and softball for a number of local high class teams.

HOME FROM TEXAS

Mrs. Frank Silva and daughter of Sixth Street have returned home after spending a month's visit in Texas with Mrs. Silva's parents.

IN THE SHOW

Mrs. Leontine Costa took part in the show at the Youth Center at Newark last Saturday. She played the part of one of the Andrew Sisters along with Box Menetrey and Ann Castro.

SCOUTS' GOOD TIME

The Decoto Boy Scout Troop spent last Friday night, Saturday and Sunday camping at Silver Springs in Niles Canyon. About 30 Scouts took part in this outing, some sleeping in tents, others in sleeping bags and others just spreading out their blankets on the ground. The trip was made in an Alvarado school bus and the Alvarado Boy Scouts also camped along with the Decoto lads. Scoutmaster Louis A. Fine was unable to be present, but Scoutmaster Harold Delgado of Alvarado Scout Troop was in charge of both troops. All the Scouts reported they had a fine time camping and swimming.

PLAY BALL!

A group of town boys have entered a softball team in the San Lorenzo League, and so far they seem to be going very good, winning both of their games, the first by a score of 41 to 2, and the second 13 to 8. This team is known as the Village Group and is managed by Joe Gonzales of the Sixth Street Market. Other local boys on the team are Freddie Sanchez, Dave Berrios, Pete Cervantaz, John Murdock Jr., Tony Lopez, Jimmy Gonzales, Joe D. Gonzales and Joe T. Gonzales Jr. Here's hoping the boys win first place in the league.

THE TALKING HORSE

Talking about baseball, that reminds me of a baseball story. A local team was having practice one day and all the boys looked up surprised to see a horse coming out into the field. The manager looked at the horse and said, "Do you want to try out for the team?" And the horse said "Yes." So the manager told the horse to go to third base. He hit a few to the horse and he caught them all and made good throws to first base. So the manager said, "Let's see you hit a few." The horse got up at bat and hit ball after ball out of the park. The manager, scratching his head, was sure surprised and he told the horse to run the bases and see how fast he was. With this the horse said, "You think if I could run I would be out here trying to make this team? Heck no! If I could run I would be out there running at Golden Gate Fields race track."

MORE BASEBALL

Let's give a few pats on the back to the local Decoto boys who helped the Washington Huskies to win their fourth consecutive league pennant. These boys are Sabe "Lefty" Elizarrey, ace hurler who pitched good ball all season and who also hit hard for a pitcher; Little Joey Castro, who also did some very good hurling all season and should develop into a first rate chucker next season. Catcher George Pagan caught almost all the games and did a great backstop job, also some very timely hitting and was hustling all the time. Raymond Berrios, who is a ballplayer's ballplayer. He just seems to do everything right; he is a beautiful fielder and a good hard hitter with a lot of wrist action, and he should have a great year next season. Tony "Lefty" Neives played part of the games at first base and showed to be a splendid player but was a little weak with the bat; but I think the boy will develop into a fair hitter with a little time and practice. Also there was Caravalho who played some in the outfield and also did some pinch-hitting. Next year he should be a regular fielder. All the boys on the team did a good job and here's hoping they can do it again next year. I could not write much about all the other good boys on this winning team because I do not know these boys personally, we all know it takes nine and more good boys playing together to make a winning club.

FISHERMAN'S LUCK

Last Sunday Arthur Brown, Don Corchero, John Torquemada, Dick Sanchez and Joe Delgado drove up to Santa Clara Shoals near Rio Vista to do a little fishing. The boys had a great time, but only two of the boys caught fish. John caught seven; he is quite a fisherman. Dick got one and the rest of the boys tried hard but no luck.

CHANGING HANDS

The Marlo Canning Company here has leased the cannery to another company who will operate the cannery now. This new company will take over in a short time and your reporter will get a complete write-up on this next week. There has been quite a lot of repairing going on for the last few days and it looks like the cannery is going to go full steam again.

NEW RESIDENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Costa of Alta Vista are now living on Thirteenth Street in Mrs. Pinza's home. Mrs. Costa is the former Rosemary Faletti of Decoto.

SAFETY PATROL REVIEW SATURDAY

Safety patrols from 24 of the rural schools of Alameda County will parade in the fifth annual School Safety Patrol Review, Saturday, at 9:30 a.m., in the Bret Harte School amphitheater at Hayward.

The six hundred patrol members will march to the music of bands from Washington Union High School, Centerville; Amador High School, Pleasanton; and Livermore Elementary School, and the drum and bugle corps from Decoto and Russell schools.

After the review, patrol members and musicians will be treated to a swim at the Hayward Plunge and a picnic at the Plunge Park. As in past years, the lunch will be provided by several P.T.A. groups, school faculty groups, chambers of commerce and community service clubs of southern Alameda county.

Local schools which will have patrols in the review are: Alvarado, Alviso, Centerville, Decoto, Irvington, Mission San Jose, Newark and Niles.

EVELYN BRIGGS IS AD-A-MITE LEADER

Mrs. Evelyn Briggs of Irvington was elected to be president of the Ad-A-Mites, young matrons group of the Irvington Community Church, at an election and installation last Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. W. M. Callahan.

The impressive candlelight ceremony was conducted by Mrs. Charles Brewer and Mrs. Wesley Hammond.

Other officers are: Mrs. Robert Holt, vice-president; and Mrs. Robert Taylor, secretary-treasurer.

Twenty-five members were present. After the installation ceremony the group discussed plans for a Sunday school family picnic to be held in June.

Four new members were taken into the group: Mmes. Earl Black, Robert McIvor, Charles Jones and Stanley Kearley.

Co-hostesses with Mrs. Callahan were Mrs. Robert Glaubke and Mrs. William Short.

Early Spanish and American explorers carved their names, missions and dates on Inscription Rock, a rocky headland on the continental divide in New Mexico.

STEELWORKERS HOLD BARBECUE

About 250 Steelworkers and their families enjoyed a picnic and barbecue at Stonybrook Park last Saturday. The crowd began to gather about 10:30 in the morning. There was plenty of fun for old and young alike, foot races, bingo and dancing. Prizes donated by local merchants were given to the winners in each contest.

The big prize was donated by Joseph Eastwood Jr., president of Passco. This was a television set which was awarded to Eddie George.

Some of the guests from the management were Charles Richey, Oscar Dowe, Chuck Woodward, Ann Whittredge, Frankie Varney, Donna Marcin, Marion Canine and Shirley Butler.

The barbecue was served to the grownups and plenty of hot dogs for the kids, with beer and soda at the regular prices.

The affair came to a close about 9:00 p.m.

FIREMEN'S DANCE TERMED A SUCCESS

The committee of the recent Irvington Firemen's Ball reported this week that the affair was the most successful ever held in the 13 years that it has been staged. They expressed their gratitude to the residents of the community and the merchants for their support and cooperation.

BACK FROM TEXAS

Frank Timmons of the rolling mill took his family to Buffalo, Texas, where they visited relatives. He also did some fishing in a few of the water holes, but without much success.

CRUISING UP THE RIVER

Joe (Snowshoes) Svoboda and wife, Carol, drove to Antioch to the Bridge Marina and took their 26-foot cruiser up to the north fork of the Mokelumne River to go frog hunting. Evidently they did alright, for Joe quit jumping along about the middle of the week.

TV FAN

Al Smith is really enjoying his new 16-inch television set. Uncle (Milty) Berle and the wrestling matches are his favorites. Smitty is a spry old timer around steel mills and always lends a helping hand to his fellow workers.

LOCAL CLUB SNAGS STATE FIRST PRIZE

The Country Club of Washington Township was awarded first prize in the Class A clubs of California in the commnuity service contest given by the General Federation of Women's Clubs. The award was made for the History of Washington Township, recently published by the Country Club.

On hand to receive the award at Sacramento was Mrs. Roland Bendel, editor-in-chief of the history. Also present were club members Mrs. E. H. Hirsch, Mrs. Frank Dusterberry and Mrs. Ralph Robison.

The prize, a hundred dollars, will be used to help defray expenses of the printing of the history book.

Having won top prize in California, the Country Club can now qualify in the national competition. The history book will be entered in the national convention being held in Boston early in June. Club members are hopeful that the local club will win the national prize which would amount to $5,000.

Mrs. Bendel expressed gratitude to all the residents of the township, the clubs, the industries, and the businesses for their assistance in helping her and her committees to compile the historical data contained in the book.

MANY UNAWARE OF RIGHTFUL BENEFITS

Edwin R. Williams, field representative, Social Security Administration, stated this week that it is important that both the worker and his family have knowledge of the protection provided and the requirements that must be met to be eligible for benefits under Old Age and Survivors Insurance.

Many workers and their families do not realize that payments may be made to survivors of deceased wage earners in addition to any benefits paid at age 65.

In the event a worker dies, his survivors should inquire as to possible benefits at the nearest Social Security Administration field office.

Williams is present every Friday between the hours of 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. at the Department of Employment, 679 Watkins Street, Hayward, to answer questions and to take applications for possible benefits.

CHRISTMAS LIGHTS ARE READY FOR USE

The Irvington Chamber of Commerce has defied science by declaring that what goes up doesn't necessarily have to come down!

The Chamber solicited funds last November for Christmas lights to be installed on the large evergreen tree in the community park.

The money was raised and the lights were put up.

They're still up, hanging there looking more out of season than a straw hat in January.

The lights continued to hang there, apparently forgotten, until they were noticed last week by one of the Chamber members.

He mentioned at the next meeting that the lights should be taken down and put away.

At Tuesday's meeting it was decided that the strands of lights had already survived the rainy season, there are but seven months remaining until Christfas, and besides, if they are taken down it would probably be forgotten where they were stored.

The Christmas lights in Irvington will remain up on the tree.

Y.L.I. HONORS MRS. NORA ROGERS

On Thursday, May 18, De Guadalupe Institute No. 74, Y.L.I., welcomed District Deputy Josephine Cummings of San Leandro on her official visit to the Institute. Mock initiation ceremonies were conducted with Mrs. Raymond Murphy, president of the group, presiding. At the same time, the members honored Mrs. George Rogers who is leaving in July on a trip to Europe and presented her with a beautiful silk scarf as a gift from the Institute.

The welfare committee with Mrs. Viola Dias as chairman, reported that two layettes had been completed and given to worthy people here in the township by the Holy Family Sisters. Mrs. George Smith headed the refreshment committee and Mrs. Jesse Perry, Mrs. Caesar DeGuilio and Mrs. Gino Quartaroli were in charge of decorations.

On Tuesday, May 23, Mrs. Rogers was the honored guest at a surprise handkerchief shower given by the Past Presidents Club of De Guadalupe Institute at the home of Mrs. Clarence Crane. Those present were Mrs. Rogers, Miss Lida Francis, Mrs. Mae E. Moore, Mrs. Lucille Brown, Mrs. Lawrence Avilla, Mrs. Ruth Murphy, Mrs. Inez Silva, Mrs. Mary Nunes, Mrs. Constance Holland, Mrs. Laura Mayer, Mrs. Anna Mae Campagna, Mrs. Viola Dias, Mrs. Dorothy Cardoza, Mrs. Madeline Santos and Mrs. Crane.

ON A TOUR

One of the most interesting events I've attended in a long time was the luncheon and tour of the Kraftile plant last week, when "Chuck" Kraft was host to his Central California dealers. Never before had I been through the Kraftile plant. I was impressed most, not by the methods of tile-making and the veriety of shapes and sizes—which were certainly fascinating—but by the contented and happy expressions on the faces of the employees!

They all looked as though they enjoyed their work—even those who were working near the hot furnaces!

For example, the young fellow who took us on a tour of the plant appeared to be doing it, not from a sense of duty nor because he was carrying out orders, but more because of a sense of pride. He was proud of the plant, and enjoyed showing it off to visitors. And he was as enthusiastic and happy in telling us about it as though he himself owned it.

REBEKAH NEWS

Memorial services for deceased members of the local lodge and of the entire order were held last Friday evening at a meeting of Silver Star Rebekah Lodge, Irvington, under the direction of Irene Bales, noble grand. The next regular meeting of the Lodge will be held Friday evening, June 2.

The Friendly Sewing Circle of Silver Star Lodge will meet in the gardens of Justine Adams, Irvington, Thursday, June 1, for a potluck luncheon. In the evening a card party for the public will be held at the Irvington Hall, and will be in charge of Olive Pugmire of the Silver Star Rebekah Lodge.

The members of Neçona Theta Rho Girls' Club No. 46 met in regular session Monday evening, May 22, at Odd Fellows Hall, Irvington, under the direction of Edna Hescher, advisor. The business meeting was preceded by a turkey dinner, also under the direction of the advisor. Many mothers of the girls, as well as a group of Rebekahs, attended this dinner. The dinner is a semi-annual affair, and is given in honor of the junior past president. The honoree on Monday evening was Barbara Neighbors.

CORPUS CHRISTI CHURCH TO BE SETTING FOR SUNDAY NUPTIALS OF NILES COUPLE

Barbara Re and Wayne Davis of Niles will become mister and missus this Sunday at a ceremony to take place at Corpus Christi Church in Niles at two o'clock.

Juliette Re will be her sister's honor attendant, and the bridesmaids will be Edna Lewis and Jeanette Biagini.

Standing up as best man will be Carl Pierce and ushers will be Milton Mohn and Ronald Oliver.

Mrs. Clarence Crane will be at the organ for the wedding music, and Mrs. Rose Vieux will be the vocalist.

The wedding this Sunday climaxes a romance which began in Washington High School. Since high school days, both young people completed a college education at San Jose State. Wayne is now employed as a department manager at Penney's in San Jose, and Barbara has been with the P. G. & E. office in Niles.

Following the ceremony, a reception will be held at Veterans Memorial Building in Niles, after which the newlyweds will leave on a honeymoon, to return to make their home in San Jose.

Luncheon at 'Kitchen' Honors Two Localites

Mrs. Edna Overacker of Niles was hostess at a luncheon at the International Kitchen last Tuesday in honor of Mrs. E. H. Hirsch, who will shortly be sailing for Europe, and Mrs. John Stocking, who recently moved into her new home in Niles. Mrs. Stocking's father, by the way, Ernest Southwick, was Mrs. Overacker's first trustee here in Niles when she taught school; so the family isn't exactly new to this area, but Mrs. Stocking has been away for a number of years.

Those present at the luncheon besides the two guests of honor included Mmes. Tom Powers, Roland Bendel, Ralph Robison, J. A. McDonald, O. E. Walpert, Dora Mae Scudder, Georgianna Hoskins, Georgietta Jones, Gladys Williamson, Marie Bishop, Walter Connolly, Ted Logan, Harvey Granger, John Whipple, Tom Robbins, Joseph Shinn Jr., Joe Svoboda, and Miss Olive Hoskins.

Newark Woman is Shower Honoree

Mrs. Louis Serafino of Newark was showered with many attractive baby gifts at a party given for her Tuesday evening by Thelma Brake of Newark and Dorothy Carpenter of Centerville.

The gifts were given to the mother-to-be in a baby buggy that served as the "prop" for a little skit presented for the amusement of the guest of honor as well as for the other guests.

Those who enjoyed the affair included Ann Hernandez, Marie Freitas, Eveline Rogers, Ruby Sudbury, Wanda Lewallen, Anna Sudbury, Helen Palmore, Fanny Sloan, Donna Spear, Alberta Ferry, Barbara Fragus, Mildred LeCount, Lois Hammond, Mildred Armstrong, Annamae Fyffe, Millicent Kelly, Elsie Mazur, Dorothy Luton, Mary Marshall and Lorraine Simas.

Calhoun-Holm Wedding Date Set

Miss Marilyn Holm of Livermore, who will become the bride of Wayne Calhoun of Niles on July 16, is being feted at a round of pre-nuptial events. Last Friday evening she was honored at a shower by her aunt, Mrs. E. C. Benthien of Livermore; another shower was given by Mrs. Marguerite Sawyer and the bride's maid-of-honor, Noel Johnson. And yet another is being planned for next Friday by Mrs. Marilyn Vargas of Livermore, while the following Sunday the Calhoun clan will get together at their Livermore ranch and welcome the bride-to-be into the family at a shower.

The young couple will exchange vows at the Presbyterian Church in Livermore, at a late afternoon wedding. Unfortunately the date is the same as that chosen by Stanley Maffey and Shirley Marriott, who are getting married at St. Joseph's Church in Mission San Jose, so Wayne won't be able to see his friend, Stanley, married. The rest of the "gang," however—buddies who have gone to school with both the boys—plan to take in both weddings, as they are at different hours.

Kirkbrides Return To Live in Niles

The Rev. and Mrs. Donald Kirkbride have returned to Niles to make their home after almost a year spent in the state of Washington. Mr. Kirkbride, former pastor at the Niles Congregational Church, returned to California to study for his Master's degree at the Pacific School of Religion in Berkeley. Until school starts in the fall he is working at Schuckl's Cannery in Niles. In the meantime his wife, "Miki," will go to summer school at Cal, preparatory to taking a teacher's job.

The couple is living at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Mohn.

Say you saw it in The Register.

Dinner Party at Italian Cafe

Nello's Italian Cafe in Niles took on a gala appearance last Wednesday evening at a dinner party given by Nello Tonelli and his wife for about twenty-five people from Niles, Hayward, and San Leandro.

The delicious Italian food and wine were served at a banquet table made festive with arrangements of brilliant red roses. Accordion solos, played by Mae Belletto, provided just the right accompaniment to an Italian dinner.

Localites invited were Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Blacow, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Juhl, and Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Batman. Also present were ex-Mayor Art Phillips and his wife of Hayward; City Councilman R. L. Musson of San Leandro; and Mmes. and Messrs. Charles De Martino, J. V. Zamarelli, George Silva, J. A. Calleri, P. J. Paletta, and Peter Popola, all of San Leandro; James L. Meegan of Castro Valley, and Mr .and Mrs. R. A. Plano.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Church of San Mateo were Tuesday evening guests at the home of Mrs. William White of Irvington.

Attends Shower for Nephew's Fiancee

Mrs. Anna Bradford of Niles attended an engagement shower this week for the fiancee of her nephew. The young lady is Miss Gayl Quinn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Quinn of Hayward. She and Mrs. Bradford's nephew, Roy Krumland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Krumland of Byron, will be married sometime in July.

Both graduates of San Jose State, the two didn't meet on the college campus however, but only after they had taken positions as teachers at the high school in Brentwood.

Roy lived with Mrs. Bradford during most of the time that he was going to college, so is well known in this area.

From Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Lorenson of Niles have had as house guests their son, Louis, and family from Washington, D. C., for the past two weeks. Before joining the service he was employed by the Pacific States Steel, so he enjoyed meeting old friends here. They left for home on Thursday.

IRVINGTON WINS 21-0 IN 6 INNINGS

Showing little respect for their visitors from the big city, the Irvington Merchants battered the Excelsiors from San Francisco so thoroughly in a ball game here last Sunday that the visitors tossed in the towel in the sixth inning and returned home.

Manager Frank Mayer's club of bullies banged out 20 hits in their five innings, to build up a score of 21 to 0, while Garcia held the visitors to five scattered hits. The Irvington onslaught was led by Fernandez and Rose with home runs; Garcia with a triple and a double, and Castleman, Faria and Rivers with doubles. Garcia collected seven strikeouts in the six innings that the Excelsiors faced him.

This Sunday the Irvington club will be hosts to the Sarto club of San Francisco at the Centerville diamond in a game called for 2 p.m.

Sunday's game will be the final home game for the Irvington club, the road trips beginning on June 4.

VILELAS, NATIVE SONS DROP FROM SOFTBALL LEAGUE

Two of the teams originally entered in the Washington Township Softball League withdrew from competition this week, leaving a total of 10 teams to compete in the two divisions.

The two teams that withdrew, Vilelas and Native Sons, were both entered in the A League, leaving a field of but four teams to compete for the pennant in that division.

At a meeting of league directors and managers Wednesday evening the B League was given the option of moving one of its clubs into the A League competition, but the offer was declined by each of the managers.

Vernon Rose, secretary of the Association, said yesterday that a new schedule will be drawn up for the A League and play will definitely open as scheduled.

Opening night ceremonies are to be held Monday, June 5, at 7:30 p.m., to be followed by an exhibition game between Kleines and Central Chevrolets.

NILES COUPLE WIN GARDEN AWARD

Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Silva of Jones Way, Niles, are the proud possessors of a bronze plaque, awarded to them as second prize in the Home Recreation Contest in the 28th District of the Congress of Parents and Teachers.

The Silvas were entered from the Phoebe A. Hearst Council, and were in the division of entries for gardens not over a year old.

Anyone who has seen the Silva garden is impressed by the beauty and the design of a garden that includes spacious barbecue and play areas, as well as planting areas.

Mrs. Silva has earned the respect of all of her neighbors for her hard-working efforts in her garden, as well as for her talents in landscaping.

The award just received by the Silvas comes as no surprise to their friends who have been aware that they have one of the most attractive gardens in the bay area.

HIGH SCHOOL OPENS PLACEMENT SERVICE

J. V. Goold, district superintendent of Washington Union High School, announced this week that to meet the need for an employment office in the township, the high school is inaugurating a student placement service.

"The goal of this service is to assist employers to find help from our own local people," Goold said.

Students are being urged to register in this placement center for both temporary and permanent work. Complete records of all students are available and should be of much help to employers in selecting workers. Employers are invited to make use of the high school placement service.

"We have students trained in many fields who are waiting to hear from prospective employers of this area," Goold revealed.

"Doing dishes" is a cinch in our new electric kitchen

"Let's plan your new electric kitchen so you'll have more free time to enjoy life!" said our helpful appliance dealer. And that's exactly what we did. Today that dream kitchen is a reality, and two of its best features are the automatic Dishwasher and Garbage Disposer... a wonder team that "does dishes" in such a quick, easy, sanitary way that it's no chore at all. A flick of an electric switch and dishes and glassware come out sparkling clean... food waste disappears down the drain safely and completely. These units, along with a new electric refrigerator and range, ventilator, proper lighting and ample appliance outlets can turn an everyday kitchen into a sparkling, pleasant, easy place to work...at a cost far less than you'd think.

Planning to build or remodel? It will more than pay you to consult your electric appliance dealer at once. With his trained experience he can show you how to save on installation, how best to use your space.

URGES PREVENTION HEALTH OFFICER

Parents who have not yet taken advantage of this spring's immunization campaign for their children are urged to do so before the campaign closes on May 31, according to Dr. James C. Malcolm, health officer of Alameda County.

Parents of all preschool or school children up to eleven years of age in the southern end of the county are offered the special rate of $1 for each injection through a cooperative program sponsored by the Alameda County Health Department and local medical societies.

Parents are reminded that when preschool youngsters enter school next September they should have immunization and vaccination protection.

"It is not enough," said Dr. Malcolm, "for children to have one series of injections for diphtheria. At least two additional boosters or reinforcing doses are needed. In the case of smallpox, at least two successful vaccinations for children are recommended."

Mission Will Become Trades School for Franciscan Brothers

The restoration dedication of Mission San Antonio de Padua, located 50 miles northwest of Paso Robles, will revive early mission life in many ways. The celebration June 4 will not only commemorate the completion of two years intensive restoration work but will mark the mission's entry into the ranks of California's educational institutions.

Just as happened on occasions of importance 150 years ago, the mission ceremonies and fiesta will be attended by high officials of state, church and military. The program includes Gov. Earl Warren; Lt. Gov, Goodwin J. Knight; Bishop Aloysius J. Willinger of the Monterey-Fresno Diocese; Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, commander of the Sixth Army; and Joseph R. Knowland, past grand president of the Native Sons of the Golden West.

The day will begin with a High Mass, followed by a solemn procession and the ceremony of blessing of the bells which have been donated by the California Mission Trails Association and by the City of Oakland. The noon barbecue will be of the old Spanish pit type.

Music and entertainment will be furnished by the Padua Hills Theater group who will attend from Claremont, Cal., to present the Mexican and early California music and dances for which they are famous.

The formal program, which will be radio broadcast, will include a full symphony orchestra composed of members of the Hollywood Bowl Orchestra. The music is under the direction of Frank Allen Hubbell and several especially prepared numbers will be rendered by the combined Franciscan choirs from Missions Santa Barbara and San Luis Rey.

Throughout the day visitors will have diversified exhibits of great historical value to see. Principal among these will be the original properties and relics of Mission San Antonio de Padua which have been in the keeping of other missions and are now returning to their original home. There will also be a complete display of precious objects from each of the other California missions, which will be exhibited in an avenue of booths, one for each establishment.

To Be School

The importance of the restoration of Mission San Antonio goes far beyond the re-establishment of the buildings. It will now become a school for young Franciscan Brothers, who will be taught many modern trades, but more especially they will be trained in the same skills that were part of the early mission industries. The training which these young men will receive will enable them to continue the restoration and maintenance work which is waiting to be done in other missions.

The Mission Trails Association has stepped up the production of its new book, "California's Missions," to coincide with the June 4 date. This book is 100 pages in length and fully illustrated.

Third in Mission Chain Founded in 1771

In the late summer of 1769 California's first actual explorers, led by Gaspar de Portola, camped in a beautiful oak-covered valley that bordered the foothills of the Santa Lucia mountains. The beauty and fertility of the region were duly noted by the padre who accompanied the expedition and his report soon reached the hands of Father Junipero Serra, leader of the Franciscans who had come to settle the Spanish province of California. It was natural, then, that before the end of the second year of their occupation, the Franciscans established a Mission, on July 14, 1771, at this promising site. San Antonio de Padua was the third in the Mission chain and the first in the Western hemisphere to be erected to honor St. Anthony.

The first accounting of the Mission's condition is for the year 1774; the report shows the presence of 178 Christianized Indians, 68 cattle and 7 horses. Grain harvests were extremely moderate, for San Antonio's agriculture did not prosper until the Franciscans laid down a remarkable aqueduct and irrigation system which vastly increased the productive acreage of the settlement. By 1830 the valley contained over 8,000 cattle and 12,000 sheep; its vineyards and grainfields covered a vast area. The Mission was famous for its Palomino horses and the fine quality of its flour and basketwork. Its industries supported some 1,000 Indians in addition to the two Franciscan padres and a handful of Spanish-American soldiers and artisans who directed the work. In addition, large quantities of supplies were regularly sent the military presidios. In 1832 an American merchant recorded his impression of the thriving institution. He found the Mission more than prosperous and commented extensively on the first-rate appearance of both the property and the inhabitants. There was nothing then to indicate the tremendous destruction that would take place within ten short years.

Land Programs

The 'land programs' instituted by the civilian governments which followed in the wake of the successful revolt against Spain, drove off the inhabitants and denuded the land. It was not until 1862, long after California had joined the United States, that the Mission buildings and part of the surrounding property were returned to the Church. By this time the once thriving community was in complete ruin; three old men comprised the entire population: an aged padre and two even more ancient Indians. After 1882 there was no one at all; even the very substance of the Mission began to disappear.

So things went until the year 1903, when a number of prominent Californians made a determined effort to restore the ruined church to some measure of its earlier magnificence. This work was seriously handicapped by the earthquake of 1906, and other than protecting the ruins against further decay, nothing more was done at that time. In 1928 the Church returned the Mission to the jurisdiction of the Franciscan order. From that time forward the Franciscans worked with the hope of restoring the Mission to the same prosperous position it once enjoyed, for of all the Missions of California, San Antonio is the only one which is still surrounded by the same primitive environment that greeted the first discoverers.

In 1948, with the assistance of Bishop Aloysius J. Willinger, Bishop of the Monterey-Fresno Diocese of the Catholic Church, an ambitious building program was launched. Funds in excess of $50,000 were collected in order to finance the restoration and the work was placed under the direction of Harry Downie, a leading authority on the architecture of California's Missions. Work on the buildings was performed in the same manner as had been done over one hundred and seventy-five years, before; adobe bricks were fashioned and laid in the sun to dry; even the rough timbers were trimmed and cut to size by the same tools Spanish and Indian artisans had used in the earlier time. In this manner the original Mission structure has been reproduced down to the most minute detail.

Perhaps, at some later time, the Indians will return, but until then the neophytes will be American boys, for San Antonio will soon become a training school for Brothers of the Franciscan Order. The ancient 'comedore' or eating room has been replaced by a great, modern kitchen and dining hall; the small apartments which gave shelter to the soldiers and their wives, have been brought back into use as two-bed rooms and will house the student Brothers. Modern workshops will teach each young man a trade, but more important to those of us who cherish California's past, each man will learn a useful ancient craft—since all the Mission industries will be revived—and from this group of experts will be drawn a company of craftsmen quite capable of completing the restoration work that is waiting to be done in other Missions.

A picture window is almost standard equipment for the modern small home. The name is based upon the assumption that the window looks out upon a landscape view.

Many such windows are seen obscured by shrubs, grown too tall for the low house they are intended to decorate. Others are heavily curtained, since the only view is one of a bare front lawn, and street.

But the picture window in the illustration achieves its purpose, thanks to the attractive flower bed planted in front of it. On the low, one-story houses which now dominate new building, flowers in the front yard provide an attractive frame and decoration for the usually plain design.

Violas are cousins of the pansy, but have a longer flowering season, especially when shaded. They are excellent for planting in front of a home which faces north. The color scheme, and flower varieties suggested in the sketch, can be varied.

A modern effect in decoration is obtained when flowers are planted in masses of a single color, rather than in mixture, or in patterns. A ribbon planting of a dwarf flower of contrasting color is often grown around the edge of the bed.

Dwarf growing varieties are most in favor, to keep the planting low, so the view from windows is unobscured, and the low-set house is not made to seem lower.

Low growing annuals which are suited for use in front yard flower beds and borders include:

Blue Chinese delphinium, violas, petunias, ageratum, anchusa, pompon aster, alyssum violet queen, cynoglossum, lobelia, dwarf morning glory, nierembergia, phlox, verbena and forget-me-not.

Red and pink pompon asters, begonias, carnations, pinks, candytuft, celosia, clarkia, nasturtiums, petunias, phlox, portulaca, salvia, verbena, lilliput and cupid zinnias, impatiens.

Yellow and orange calendulas, dwarf calliopsis, orange cosmos, dimorphotheca, California poppy, lantana, marigolds, nasturtiums, portulaca, sanvitalia, cupid and lilliput zinnias.

Serve a Buffet Supper

Buffet suppers enjoy an endless popularity both for informal family affairs and for parties. They save a lot of trouble for the hostess and they make for fun and conversation as guests help themselves.

A good way to assemble a tempting buffet supper is to start with fried chicken, all done up brown and tempting and served from a straw basket. Cabbage slaw, fresh pineapple, potato chips or French fries, green onions, olives, small bread and butter sandwiches and the family choice dessert. Here's a recipe for chicken, basket style:

Place half cup flour seasoned with 2 teaspoons salt and ⅛ teaspoon pepper. Shake chicken till thoroughly covered with flour mixture then fry in a hot frying pan with ½ inch of hot fat (about 6-7 tablespoons) and brown slowly and thoroughly. Turn heat low and continue frying for 35-60 minutes, depending on the size of pieces.

For a less pretentious affair, or when guests drop in unexpectedly, a buffet tray assembled to suit the season is always welcome. For spring, little green onions, crisp radishes, cold meats and cheese slices and potato chips are easily obtained.

To make an attractive arrangement of these tempting foods, nest stuffed and ripe olives and radishes in lettuce cups at the ends or sides of your tray with pearly onion stalks making a dividing line between the groupings.

Cheese slices and meat take the center spot on the tray in any one of a number of inviting arrangements, depending on the shape of your tray. There is such a variety of cheeses to be had these days that such a tray can be made thoroughly interesting.

Here is a suggestion:

Buffet Tray

Stuffed olives.
Ripe olives.
Radish roses.
Green onions.
Potato chips.
Summer sausage.
Liver sausage.
Packaged pasteurized process American cheese slices.
Lettuce.

On either end of a tray arrange stuffed olives, ripe olives, radish roses, and green onions in lettuce nests. In the center of the tray place the meat and cheese.

For a completely different service try this Molded Avocado and Tuna Loaf. The layers of this Avocado and Tuna Loaf can be made and served separately, but for buffet dinners and other party occasions, it's smart to combine the meat and salad courses in one handsome molded dish. Accompany this with trays of potato chips, relishes of various kinds and a beverage, and guests will make a request repeat call.

Molded Avocado and Tuna Loaf

1 envelope unflavored gelatine
¼ cup cold water
1 cup hot water
3 tablespoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon salt
1 7-oz. can tuna fish, flaked
1 cup diced celery
½ cup chopped pimiento
Crisp salad greens

Soften gelatine in cold water; add hot water and stir until dissolved. Add lemon juice and salt; chill until the mixture is the consistency of unbeaten egg white. Fold in flaked tuna fish, celery and pimiento. Turn into a 9x5x3 inch loaf pan and chill until almost firm. Then top with avocado layer and chill until firm. Just before serving, unmold on crisp salad greens, garnish if desired with wedges of avocado, ripe and green olives. Yield: Eight servings.

For some extra special rolls which are just right for a buffet, try these Bran Pocketbook Rolls.

Bran Pocketbook Rolls

½ cup all bran
⅔ cup milk
1 egg, beaten
3 tablespoons shortening
1½ cups sifted flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon sugar
½ cup cornmeal

Combine all bran, milk and egg. Cut shortening into sifted dry ingredients until coarsely mixed. Add the milk mixture, stirring only until combined. Turn onto floured board; knead lightly. Roll out to one-half inch thickness. Cut with 2½ inch floured biscuit cutter. Brush each round with milk and fold over in half like Parker House rolls. Place on baking sheet, brush tops with milk. Bake in hot oven (450 degrees F.) about 15 minutes or until browned. Yield: 18 2½ inch rolls.

Fresh Banana Makes Cake Extra Special

A cake is always something very special when its flavor is natural banana, and it has always been easy to give cakes natural banana flavor by simply mashing the bananas and adding the fruit to the batter. Bananas have a subtle something of their own that permeates a cake, gives it all the essence of the tropics. Bananas also help to keep a cake fresh and moist.

Nowadays delectable banana cakes are easy to make at home with the packaged quick cake mixes that are so popular. A few simple rules and almost any cake mix will make a delicious fresh banana flavored cake. Keep these rules for your file of favorite cakes.

1. When the package directions for mixing specify the addition of 1 cup of liquid, either water or milk; simply use 1¼ cups of mashed bananas instead of the water or milk.

2. When the package directions for mixing directions specify 1 cup of water and eggs, reduce the water to ¼ cup, add 1 cup of mashed bananas and use the eggs, as directed.

To mash bananas, slice the bananas into a bowl and beat with a fork, or beat with a rotary egg beater. Or the bananas can be broken into chunks and beaten in an electric mixer. For the most attractive flavor in banana cakes, use fruit that is fully ripe. This is indicated by the peel. If it is yellow flecked with brown the banana is fully ripe.

Besides making delicious banana cakes with prepared commercial cake mixes, it is easy to vary them with spices for still another kind of cake. For a delightful banana spice layer cake, sift together with the dry ingredients ⅜ teaspoon ground cloves, 1¼ teaspoons cinnamon and ½ teaspoon nutmeg. Add mashed bananas according to the rules given for particular types of mixes.

To complete a banana masterpiece, try banana butter frosting, one of the most delicious of all frostings for a home-made cake.

BANANA BUTTER FROSTING

½ cup mashed ripe bananas* (1 to 2 bananas)
½ teaspoon lemon juice
¼ cup butter
3½ cups sifted confectioners sugar

*Use fully ripe bananas . . . yellow peel flecked with brown.

Mix together bananas and lemon juice. Beat butter until creamy. Add sugar and bananas alternately, a small amount at a time, beating until frosting is light and fluffy. Makes about 2½ cups frosting . . . enough to frost top and sides of 8x8x2-inch cake, or tops of two 9-inch cake layers, or 18 to 20 cupcakes.

Mixing Method Gives Custard Glamor Touch

A simple trick or two can often turn an ordinary dish into a glamorous feast. So it is with this almond custard pie. The special trick here is in the method of mixing the custard. The egg yolks only are used in the custardy base. The egg whites are whipped into a fluffy meringue and then combined with the basic custard.

In the baking then, the mixture separates into layers—a light nut-crusted meringue like layer atop a rich, creamy custard. Shredded toasted almonds folded into the filling embellish the meringue layer and add a pleasing crunchiness to the pie.

ALMOND CUSTARD PIE

3 eggs, separated
½ cup sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 cup evaporated milk
½ cup shredded toasted almonds
½ teaspoon vanilla extract
¼ cup sugar
Few grains salt
Unbaked pie shell

Beat egg yolks. Add sugar slowly and beat until lemon colored. Gradually add salt, milk, water, vanilla and toasted almonds. Stir to blend well. Add salt to egg whites and beat until frothy. Gradually add sugar and continue beating until egg whites will hold a soft peak.

Gently fold the custard mixture into the egg whites. Pour into a 9-inch unbaked pie shell. Bake in a hot oven (425 degrees F.) 15 minutes, then reduce heat to a slow oven (300 degrees F.) and continue baking until set, about 15 minutes longer. Makes 1 9-inch pie.

A famed chef of the West ladles his own favorite "Buckaroo Barbecue Sauce" onto a juicy hamburger for a hungry guest. Along with this go ripe olives, tomato-Calavo relish and potato salad to make it a feast for a king.

Buckaroo Barbecue Sauce

¾ cup finely chopped onion
1 minced clove garlic
3 tablespoons olive oil
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1 teaspoon chili powder
1 teaspoon brown sugar
1 teaspoon celery seed
½ teaspoon black pepper
1/16 teaspoon cayenne pepper
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
2 teaspoons prepared horseradish
2 tablespoons wine vinegar
2 cups hot water

Cook onion and garlic slowly in olive oil until tender but not brown. Add remaining ingredients and simmer 30 to 40 minutes, until desired thickness. Serve hot over broiled meat. For hamburgers, marinate patties in cooled sauce an hour or longer before broiling.

Makes about 1 cup sauce.

CALAVO-TOMATO RELISH

1 medium-sized Calavo
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 medium-sized tomato
2 green onions
Salt
Pepper

Cut Calavo into halves lengthwise and remove seed and skin. Dice fruit and sprinkle with lemon juice. Dice tomato. Slice onions thin. Combine Calavo, tomato and onion; season with salt and pepper to taste, blending lightly.

Makes about 1½ cups.

West Ways Potato Salad

3 cups diced cooked potatoes
¼ cup French dressing
½ cup ripe olives
2 hard-cooked eggs
1 cup diced celery
2 tablespoons grated onion
½ cup mayonnaise
Salt
Pepper

Combine potatoes with French dressing and allow to stand an hour or more. Cut olives from pits into large pieces. Dice eggs. Add olives, celery, onion, mayonnaise and eggs to potatoes, blending lightly. Season with salt and pepper to taste.

Serves 6.

San Diego Fair, Third Largest in State, to Be Held June 30 - July 9

Del Mar Exposition Expanded in All Phases· Horse Show, Varied Program Offered

Quietly and unnoticed, a large crew of workmen of all skills and trades is busily engaged at the San Diego County Fairgrounds at seaside Del Mar. From the combined efforts of this group will blossom the annual summer exposition to be held June 30 through July 9. Recognized as the third largest fair in California, the Del Mar exposition will be expanded in every department. More than $125,000 in premium monies has been made available to exhibitors.

Electrical, sewage and fire prevention sprinkler systems have been installed to make the property and buildings modern in every respect. The adobe wall surrounding the grounds has been painted with an attractive plastic coating.

The grandstand and jockey club have been refinished and decorated.

More than 700 eucalyptus trees have been planted. In future years these trees will provide a shaded park for parties and picnickers.

A complete dairy barn will be new this year. Dairy men will demonstrate the complete process of bringing milk to the consumer. Cows will be milked and this product will be carried through the various processes through transparent tubing. At one end of the building will be a milk bar. Fair visitors will be able to buy dairy products such as ice cream, cheese and milk.

Horse Show

For the first time since the National Horse Show has been a part of the Fair, it will be held in front of the grandstand each evening. In conjunction with this show will be a championship rodeo. Two matinee performances also are booked for Saturday and Sunday.

Community days have been designated, and groups from various towns and cities will present programs of entertainment on the main stage in front of the grandstand.

Taking advantage of the vast number of nurseries and flower growers in Southern California, acreage in Flowerland has been increased. Visitors to these gardens will see almost every type of flower, bush and shrubbery grown in the Southland.

The Gems and Minerals show will feature more than 125 cases of precious stones and cuttings. A group of lapidarists will give demonstrations on the manufacture of jewelry and silverware.

Queen Contest

Attractions for teen-agers will be many. There will be a Fairest of the Fair queen contest open to senior girls of San Diego County. Winner of this event will receive a $500 scholarship to any school of her choice. If she prefers, a trust fund for this amount will be made payable to her at the age of 21.

In addition, the Fairest of the Fair will be showered with merchandise gifts and will spend the duration of the Fair at Hotel Del Mar with all expenses paid. All girls entered in the contest will be guests at Del Mar for three days.

Also dominating much of the attention of the younger set will be a mutt show. This event follows the pattern set at regular dog shows.

More than 75 mutts were in last year's laugh-provoking show and children received large quantities of merchandise premiums for winning entries.

Receiving a great deal of consideration this year is the Junior Fair auction, annually an important phase of Future Farmers of America and 4-H Club functions at the Fair.

Attempts are being made to attract a larger number of buyers than ever before. Hotel chefs, large restaurants, meat packing houses and civic organizations have been invited to participate in this auction and bid for choice meats on the hoof. Being able to sell their livestock is of great importance to these young farmers who depend on this revenue to carry their projects from year to year.

In paid entertainment there will be harness and quarter horse racing with pari-mutuel wagering to be held daily except Sunday.

Iris Gardens of Arcata, Sawmill Center Of the West, Have 160 Varieties in Full Bloom

By MONICA HADLEY

The city of Arcata, situated on the north point of Humboldt Bay in the Redwood area, has become known in the past few years as the Sawmill Center of the West. It recently celebrated its 100th anniversary and recalled the boom days of yesteryear when the lumber industry gave Arcata its start.

But amid the buzz of a revitalized industrial life in this lumber city there are those who take time out for the cultivation of gardens and the beauty of nature. Among these is the mayor of Arcata, Allen M. Ham, whose iris garden has become widely known over the state of California.

It was in 1930 that Mayor Ham and his wife, Minnetta, planted their first few iris. As their interest grew from year to year, more and more varieties were added until now the Arcata Iris Gardens, as they are known, now have 160 varieties, which include 88 of the first 100 iris judged during the year 1949 in addition to the many seedlings which Ham has hybridized and developed.

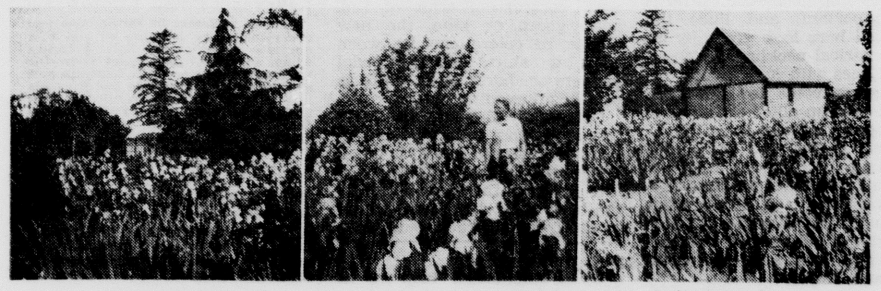
The Oakland Flower Show, patronized by hundreds of thousands of people and operated on a $500,000 budget is indicative of the general interest throughout the state in the hobby of gardening.

While Arcata does not have a flower show it does have some outstanding gardens of which the Arcata Iris Gardens is indicative. The garden is landscaped with shrubs, trees, lawns, and other flowers but specializes in an outstanding collection of German bearded iris.

During the last 40 years, hybridizers have created many new varieties of iris. These varieties rival the orchid in their variety and distribution of color. New varieties come out constantly and at prices that make one believe he may be buying orchids.

Every flower has its specialists and the specialists always form a society. The American Iris Society, with thousands of members, appoints judges who pick the 100 best iris each year. Flowers are judged as to color, texture, form, size, placement on the stock, and performance. Some 88 of these outstanding varieties of 1949 are to be found in the Arcata Iris Gardens. There is the pink "Cherie," which was introduced in 1947 for $25 and which still sells for $18. There is "Helen McGregor," a blue, which was medal winner for 1949, and this year has three stocks of bloom on a single plant. There are two of David Hall's pink seedlings, 4601, 4609, both which appear to rival "Hit Parade" or "Pink Cameo." Altogether there are 35 new varieties for 1950 which along with such old favorites as "Chivalry," "Minnie Colquitt," "Elmohr," "California Rose" and "Ola Kala" should make a colorful display.

More than 160 varieties of iris are expected to bloom during the season this year which runs for about six weeks, May 7 through June 10. Hundreds of visitors walk through the Arcata Iris Gardens each year, the only one of its kind north of Berkeley.



Pictured is Mrs. Allen Ham, wife of the mayor of Arcata, Calif., looking over her iris gardens which she and the mayor began in 1930 as a hobby. In the views shown are some of the 160 varieties, which are attracting visitors from throughout the northern part of the state.

Paris Stylists Will Design Costume Jewelry

Pierre Balmain, well known to the press of the world as one of the most famous of Paris couturiers, was recently introduced as an equally talented designer of jewelry. He will design an exclusive line of jewelry for U.S. firm's fall collection.

Balmain's various light and lyre-like designs in his initial American collection will be called "Orpheus," after the poet and musician of mythology. "My 'idol of elegance' is the complete simplicity of clothes," he said. "But I think the most important effect of a costume depends upon the choice of the accessories. And the most important accessories are jewels," he added.

It is Balmain's belief that the more precious jewelry a woman has, the more she can "afford" to wear costume jewelry.

Balmain will design his collection in Paris and send the sketches to the American firm to interpret.

Complexion Brush Helps

Unless your skin is extremely sensitive, it can stand one thorough washing with soap and water every day, plus several cool water rinsings. Washing with mild soap and soft water is essential for thoroughly removing all traces of cosmetics.

Washing removes dirt, of course, but it also takes away surface oil. For a complete cleansing of your pores, therefore, try a complexion brush. It will, in addition to getting your face clean, help tone your skin by stimulating flow of blood to the surface.

It isn't necessary to wield the brush with a heavy hand. A gentle but firm rotary motion will get results. Concentrate on the areas where fat glands are most active, particularly the area around the nose and chin.

Make a mask of the soap lather and let it stay on your face for a few minutes. Rinse thoroughly with warm water and finish off with a cold water rinse. Be sure you choose a mild soap which lathers well, such as a cold cream soap. And if the water in your area is hard, soften it by adding one teaspoon of cooking soda and one teaspoon of borax to a basin of water.

Six Designers Note Trends

Six leading American dress designers have chosen a favorite creation from their individual collections to point out the fashion trends for spring. Several of them feature pleats, small jackets, and interesting sleeve treatments:

Vera Maxwell chooses an easy-to-don dress with dolman sleeves, a wrapped bodice, corrugated skirt. A tweed coat is lined with the dress material

Joset Walker picks a silk print, believes big, geometric patterns are important, and likes the modified bare look given by an asymmetrical neckline. A fitted jacket goes with it.

Brigance votes for the little jacket over an allied dress. The mushroom pleated jacket is of worsted jersey, the dress silk shantung.

Tina Leser likes yellow—anyone can wear it with the right make-up. Her favorite, a puckered silk sundress, has attached scarves to wrap as a sash or to float as a shawl.

Adele Simpson selects the little silk suit, points to the crispness of taffeta, to three-quarter sleeves with brisk, flaring cuffs, to a rolling collar.

Claire McCardell believes in pleats and more pleats: Thin worsted is permanently pleated from neck to hem except for push-up raglan sleeves.

New Bra-less Blouse Contours; Cool for Summer

A leading California brassiere manufacturer has found the answer to warm weather comfort combined with smartness and has just introduced a new midriff blouse which provides its own brassiere. All of the uplift and contour molding of a brassiere are designed into the new garment.

In colorful cotton prints of red, blue, green and gold with white trim and all-white rayon poplin with contrasting trim of red, gold, green or blue, the new blouse in colors can be worn with a skirt, slacks, pedal pushers or shorts, or in white as part of an evening outfit.

Completely lined in the body proper, it has contour molding features designed in and is quick and easy to put on. Merely slip into it, cross the shaped ties in the back and bring them around to the front where they tie in a pretty bow.

For dressier occasions white or black eyelet models are recommended but there is also a blue denim trimmed with white ric-rac and a colorful paisley cotton seersucker, also trimmed with ric-rac, for occasions when such would be more appropriate.
